Jan Farrell attempts 7 speed records

18 May 2015 Last updated at 06:48 BST

UK speed skier extraordinaire, Jan Farrell, will attempt the first of seven speed world records on Monday.

With racers reaching speeds more than 130mph - the straight-line descent of an extremely steep slope - is the world's fastest non-motorised sport.

Jan plans to attempt seven different speed skiing records in different resorts around the world over the next three years.
